Don't Gamble In Clothes!

THE average man knows little about clothes. He likes the color of the fabric, the cut of the garments, but has doubts of the wearing qualities.

He looks on clothes-buying as more or less of a gamble. The man who chooses MICHAELS-STERN CLOTHES does not gamble. He takes no chances. Six months after he has bought a suit he is still satisfied. The wearing qualities are there.

POSTAL SAVINGS SYSTEM.

The U. S. Postal Savings System was instituted at the Owingsville post-office May 1. Though depositors have been slow to take advantage of it they may do so when they become better acquainted with it. The postmaster furnishes circulars giving details to intending depositors. The conditions are briefly summarized in the following:

Any person over ten years of age may make deposits of $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100, each deposit bearing 2 per cent. interest per year from the first day of the month next following that in which the deposit is made. No interest is paid on a deposit less than a year old. The interest is paid at the end of the year.

Deposits may be made at any time, and not more than $500 may be on deposit by any one person at any one time.

No person can open more than one deposit account.

None but an individual can open an account. Deposits are subject to the exclusive control of the depositor, whether a minor, married or single. Deposit certificates are not transferable nor negotiable.

Deposits can be withdrawn in whole or in part by the depositor at any time.

None but a patron can open an account at the postoffice, and the depositor must make the first deposit in person.

A depositor by notifying the postmaster on or before June 15 and Dec. 15 each year can for his or her deposits purchase U. S. registered or coupon bonds of $20, $40, $60, $80, $100, $200, $300, $400 or $500 denomination, bearing two and one-half per cent. interest per year and the interest payable twice a year, provided such bonds are then available. The U. S. reserves the right to redeem in gold coin these bonds any time from one year to twenty years after their issue.

These bonds are exempt from all taxes. There is no limit to the amount of such bonds that may be acquired by a depositor, though none but a depositor can secure them direct.

CITY PUMPHOUSE RAMMED BY BOAT

WRECKED BY RIVER CRAFT.

TOWN FACING WATER FAMINE

Damage Done Is So Great That City and Prison May Be Deprived of Water Unless Plant Is Speedily Repaired.

Eddyville.—This city is facing a water famine of a serious character, so far as fire protection and domestic service is concerned, as the result of the wrecking of the penitentiary pumphouse, when the tow boat Clyde rammmed the pumphouse with her tow of six barges. A large part of the pumphouse was knocked into the Cumberland river, while a fine launch belonging to Capt. C. W. Depp, late electrician at the penitentiary, was practically ruined. The loss on the pumphouse and machinery is at least $10,000 and may go higher, according to prison officials, while a conservative estimate of the damage to the launch is $2,000. The pumphouse supplies not only the prison, but the city as well. Practically every family has resolved itself into a bucket brigade. The inmates of the Lyon county jail are being supplied in this primitive way. It is believed that the damage to the pumphouse and the pumps cannot be repaired under two weeks and it may take as much as three.

The pumphouse sets well up on the banks of the Cumberland when that river is at ordinary stage, but just now the Cumberland is at flood tide and practically surrounds the building, although the latter was still able to do its work. At the time of the accident the Clyde was coming down the river and it is supposed that she failed to reverse her engines in time to prevent a collision with the pumphouse. No one was hurt so far as known. The Clyde lost two barges. This is the first time in many years that the pumphouse has been out of commission.

NATURAL GAS FOR LEXINGTON.

Lexington.—There will be plenty of natural gas for Lexington next winter, and no danger whatever of another shortage similar to that during the cold weather last season. The emphatic assurance of Capt. John Tonkin, general manager of the Central Kentucky Natural Gas company, who arrived here recently for the purpose of handling along the surveys which are being made for the new line to the West Virginia

JUMPS INTO A WELL.

Central City.—Joseph Franklin Richardson, seventy-one, one of the best known men of the town, committed suicide by jumping into the well at his home on Third street, this city. Mr. Richardson had been in poor health and was subject to spells of despondency. He had just been conversing with his family prior to going down in town. It was thought he had gone when his daughter, Lulu, looking out the door saw her father opening the well. Knowing that he was low spirited, she ran to him, catching her father's foot just as he plunged over the curb. Holding fast to the foot and screaming for help the daughter attracted the attention of Alvin Banks and Jim Perkins. Mr. Franklin jerked his foot loose and fell headlong into the well before the passersby could reach the scene. Banks was lowered into the well, finding Mr. Richardson doubled up at the bottom. Both men were drawn to the surface, but Richardson never regained consciousness and died two hours later. There are no known reasons for the suicide other than ill health, and the fact that he had not been successful in securing satisfactory employment. Mr. Richardson was born in Logan county and served with distinction as a Confederate soldier, having been a member of the Orphan Brigade. He was for many years assessor of Daviess county, twice doorkeeper of the senate and represented Muhlenberg county in the legislature. He married Miss Jennie Morgan in 1871. Two children survive, Miss Lulu Richardson, of this city, and Mrs. S. A. Burns, of Daviess county, as well as his aged wife.

CHARGED WITH BIGAMY.

Mayville, Ky.—Perry Bradley, of this city was arrested here recently charged with bigamy. He was given a preliminary trial before Police Judge Whitaker, and after the prosecution had shown, as it believed, that he had two living wives, from neither of whom he had ever been divorced, he was released under unusually interesting circumstances. The testimony showed that Bradley had married Miss Mary Lou Sanks in Fleming county, Ky., in November, 1902, and that several years later, and without having been divorced, as alleged, he married Miss Mary Alice Turner, of this city, at West Union, O. His attorney, John T. Chamberlain, after these alleged facts had been set forth by the prosecution, sprang a surprise upon the court in the form of a judicial decision rendered by the Kentucky Court of Appeals, in which it was held, that where a person was married in this state and then later went to another state and married again without being divorced from his first wife, the violator was not amenable to the Kentucky laws, and the state courts had no jurisdiction therein. The decision also held that though the person was guilty of bigamy, he was only amenable to the laws of the state in which the offense was committed. When this decision was read the prosecution's case collapsed.

KILLS HIS OWN BROTHER.

Georgetown.—Unfortunately mistaking his brother Isaac for a burglar, George Southworth blew the top of the former's head off with a double-barrel shotgun. This tragedy occurred at their home at Lyle's Fork, Scott county, when Isaac, the youngest boy of the family returning from a fox hunt, sought to reach the key which usually hangs over the front door when either brother is out late. George, the 22-year-old brother, had returned home at 10 o'clock and had several times been disturbed by unusual noises which had made him nervous. Hearing the fumbling above the door, he reached for his gun, and fired through the unraised window blind. With sorrow, he soon discovered it was his own brother he had killed. He has almost lost his mind as a result. Both brothers were farmers.

LAUNDRYMEN MEET.

Hopkinsville.—With nearly one hundred delegates present from all parts of the state the Kentucky Laundry Owners' Association was called to order at the Latham Hotel by President T. M. Funk of Paris. After an invocation by the Rev. E. B. Landis, the visitors were welcomed by Mayor Meacham, and the response was spoken by F. S. Katterjohn, of Owensboro. President Funk, in his annual report, recommended that all future meetings be held alternately at Louisville and Lexington. An invitation from Lexington to meet in that city next year will be acted upon tomorrow. The delegates visited the Princess theater and Holland's opera house and were entertained later at a reception given by Thomas L. Metcalfe. The meeting will close with a barbecue on Lake Tandy.

LARGE STRAWBERRY CROP.

Bowling Green.—The strawberry crop in Warren county this year will be the largest in its history, according to reports from all over the county. Between 1,100 and 1,200 acres are in berries, and the first shipment is expected to be made in less than 30 days. The three principal varieties are Klondykes, Gandys and Aromas. More than 100,000 crates have been received and for some time past the association has had men out securing pickers.

Hodgenville.—R. J. Skaggs and J. J. Bell, farmers, have been sued for $300 alleged damage in the Larue circuit court. They are charged with cutting telephone wires at points on their farms. An injunction also is asked. G. T. Underwood and others of the Bufile vicinity are the plaintiffs.

Whitesburg.—John Elkins, thirty-two, was arrested near the Kentucky border, charged with the murder of Henry Hunsucker, Jr., four months ago and taken to Wise jail.

FROM OLD KENTUCKY

Mt. Sterling.—Barns, fences and tobacco beds were damaged considerably recently by the heavy wind and rainstorm.

Mt. Sterling.—Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, president of the Kentucky Educational Association, will lecture at the Baptist church on the subject, "Educating Kentuckians, Young and Old."

Olive Hill.—Milton P. Slaver, night foreman at the Olive Hill Fire Brick company's clay mines here, was instantly killed in the mines by falling slate. He was eating his lunch when, without warning, the slate fell upon him.

Henderson.—Work on the Henderson dam No. 78 will be delayed, according to Eickel & Co., who have the contract, because of the inability of the saw mills to deliver the lumber as agreed upon. This inability is due to flood conditions and the wet spring.

Nicholasville.—Isaac Christman, a farmer living near Wilmore, committed suicide at his home by shooting himself through the head. The deed is supposed to have been prompted by ill health. He was a bachelor and lived with his brother.

Greenville.—Frank Frel, merchant of this place, was working on his lawn when he accidentally stuck a pitchfork in his foot. Symptoms of blood poisoning developed later, and his condition became so alarming that the antitoxin treatment was given him. His condition is critical.

Mayville.—Robert A. Cochran, of this city, at a recent meeting of the Ebenezer Presbytery at Ludlow, Ky., was elected as elder commissioner to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, which meets at Louisville during the coming summer. J. E. Bassett, of the Second Presbyterian church, of Lexington, was elected alternate.

Henderson.—Lightning and wind played some freaks here during a heavy windstorm, which was accompanied by rain. Lightning struck a barn at the dairy farm of W. S. Holway and killed a fine Jersey cow valued at $85. The other cows in the same barn were not hurt. The wind blew down several small smokestacks and hail broke a window at the Jefferson school.

Mt. Sterling.—James Porter, city ticket agent at local depot, has been promoted to a similar position at Lexington, and Charles Eskridge has been made ticket agent here. Ermino French, who has been baggage master, has been promoted to the place made vacant by Mr. Eskridge, and Walter Clinkenbard of Bethel, has been promoted to the place of baggage master.

Carlisle.—The Licking river is reported to be very high now as a result of heavy rains. River men report that many of the bottoms have been overflowed where plowing had been done and the ground made ready for planting corn and tobacco. All will have to be prepared anew after the water recedes. In some sections of the county the ground was torn literally to pieces and much fencing washed away.

Carlisle.—Newell Campbell, a farmer obtained judgment against the city of Carlisle for $350 at the last term of the Nicholas Circuit Court for alleged injuries which he sustained by being thrown from his buggy in the street here when the buggy hit a pile of rock. Now the city asks that the verdict and judgment be set aside and that a new trial be granted. The city alleges that it has discovered since the trial that one of the jurors trying the case was related to Mr. Campbell by marriage.

Marion.—The new Methodist church building has been opened to the public, Bishop Collins Denny, D. D., of Richmond, Va., preaching the opening sermon. The building is a handsome structure, just completed at a cost of $30,000. After the sermon the pastor, Dr. Arthur Mather, took up a collection of $2,500 to cover the indebtedness against the building committee. A four weeks series of revival meetings will follow. The following ministers will assist the pastor during the meetings: The Rev. J. B. Adams, of Henderson; the Rev. S. T. Joiner, of Hartford; the Rev. T. V. McFee, of Franklin and the Rev. Virgil Elgin, of Jeffersonstown. The Rev. W. B. Palmer, D. D., of St. Louis, editor of the Christian Advocate, will preach two sermons during the meetings.

Carlisle.—Mrs. Pearl Feedback, wife of Green Feedback a prominent farmer of this county, whose arm was lacerated by a vicious dog while she was on her way to a neighbor's house has gone to Chicago for treatment. Mrs. Feedback sustained several cuts to the bone of her arm from the dog's teeth. Dr. J. Gray Martin, who was called, had the dog killed and the brain examined. The examination shows that the dog was affected with rabies, and Mrs. Feedback left immediately for Chicago to undergo treatment.

Emmence.—Mayor George W. Young, who broke into the limelight a few weeks ago by making this city the "smallest city in the world with a great white way," announces now that he will reverse the usual order as to prison labor, and the inmates of the city's workhouse will be put to "making rock" instead of "breaking rock." Mayor Young contemplates the erection of a new city hall here, and he will use the prison labor in making the artificial stone and cement blocks for the new edifice.

ISLANDS AS CABLE STATIONS

Small Strips of Land in Pacific Inhabited by Chief of Port and Several Others.

San Francisco, Cal.—When a submarine cable breaks in mid-ocean, it would seem to one unfamiliar with such work that the location of the trouble would be a rather hopeless undertaking. This problem was recently presented to the Commercial Pacific Cable company, when its cable from San Francisco to China, Japan and the Philippines refused to operate. The question was very easily settled, however, by the use of delicate electrical instruments, which told that the trouble existed on the coral reefs which surround the two little Midway Islands. These islands are 3,608 miles from San Francisco and 4,237 miles from the Philippines, each consisting of a strip of land of only a few acres in area, one being known as Sand Island, or Western Island, and the other Eastern Island, the cable station being located on the former.

In laying a trans-oceanic cable, every possible precaution is taken to keep the line free from trouble and to this end the right of way, if we might apply such a term to the bottom of the sea, must contain no elements which will cause undue deterioration of the cable. In this instance, an unforeseen factor has arisen in the shape of a coral reef. The motion of the water swaying the great cable to and fro over the rough coral surface chafed the insulation and wires sufficiently to cause the break, the cost of repairing which will amount to approximately $100,000.

The population of Sand Island, the home of the cable station, consists of 23 persons, namely, the superintendent of the cable company and his wife, one chief operator and his wife, a physician, cable operators and a few laborers, with two cows, two donkeys and some poultry. There is no government, no mayor, not even a constable. It is a law-abiding community and has no record of crime. The island is a law-abiding community and has no record of crime. The island is a law-abiding community and has no record of crime.

Before the coming of the cable station, the island was totally uninhabited. As the result of turning loose two canary birds quite some time ago, the island now has a wild feathered family of over five hundred songsters.

OMITS "YES" AND LOSES SUIT
Girl Seeking $10,000 for Breach of Promise Admits She Did Not Accept Suit.

Kansas City, Mo.—An emphatic "yes" and not a smile or a mere nod of the head must be given by the maiden proposed to in order to cover damages for breach of promise to marry, according to a decision in the circuit court here. Edna M. Cooke of this city sued Garnett Sparks, 3735 Broadway, a horse and mule dealer for $10,000 damages, but her attorney withdrew the case when the evidence developed the fact that she had not said "yes" when Sparks proposed, but "took it for granted that he knew she would marry him."

Find the Perfect Wife.
New York.—According to Mrs. Roland Kilbee-Stuart, wife of a retired British army officer, the perfect woman and the perfect wife is to be found in Burmah. Mrs. Kilbee-Stuart and her husband arrived on the last lap of a 30,000-mile trip of the world. "The Burmese woman," said Mrs. Kilbee-Stuart, "is thrifty and keeps her home well. She is a business woman, knows how to look after her husband's business and attend to the domestic economy of the house. Her one idea is that she should be attractive as well as to make her home attractive."

WOMAN IS HEROIC

WIFE OF SHIP'S CAPTAIN WORKS WITH MEN TO FIGHT FIRE.

Helps Small Crew to Save Burning Excursion Boat and Has to Swim For Her Life.

New York.—Fire aboard the steamer Mohawk in Cardell Bros' shipyard, at Mariner's Harbor, S. I., did $100,000 damage and came near costing seven persons their lives. Among them was Mrs. Bertha Brown, wife of the captain.

Routed from her cabin by the fire aboard the boat Mrs. Brown, clad only in her night dress, ran to the deck and there joined the crew of six and her husband in their efforts to extinguish the flames. She continued to haul water and work in the bucket brigade fighting the flames until it was impossible to stand the heat any longer.

The boat, whose hawser had been burned, was then drifting in Staten Island Sound, and Mrs. Brown, with the others, was forced to jump into the icy water and swim for her life. She was rescued by one of the boats that put out from the shore. In her fight to save the vessel Mrs. Brown was not injured, but she suffered from the shock of immersion in the cold water.

ENGINE ROLLS OVER

But Three Men in the Cab Escaped With Only a Few Bruises.

New Orleans, La.—Texas and Pacific Engine No. 62, while running 20 miles an hour, and with three men in the cab, turned completely over between Addicks and Grosche Tete, and the crew escaped injury other than bruises.

When the engine stopped rolling Engineer Moore shut off the steam, which was still driving the big wheels as it lay on its side, throwing dirt in every direction.

"We were backing up and the tank left the rails about seven miles from Addicks toward Grosche Tete," said Engineer Moore. "The tank rolled over on its side to the right of the track and the engine rolled to the left side, three of us in the cab."

"I was thrown from my seat into the fireman's side and fell on top of Fireman Strehlo and Conductor Oliver. None of us was hurt except being bruised. I have been an engineer 23 years and have been in several wrecks, but I never saw or heard of anything so unusual or so fortunate as this one."

Bandit Escapes.

Body of C. M. Hays Arrives.

Halifax, N. S.—The cable ship Minia, which relieved the Mackay-Bennett in the search for bodies of Titanic victims near the scene of the disaster, reached here, bringing 15 additional bodies. Seventeen bodies in all were recovered by the Minia, but two of them, supposed to be those of firemen, and unidentified, were buried at sea. The list of identified bodies on the Minia is headed by the name of Charles M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk railway, of Canada.

Bloody Battle in Prison Court Yard.
Lisbon.—Details of the revolt among the prisoners at Limoes show that 400 political prisoners, well supplied with arms and money, had enticed 450 criminal prisoners to join them in a revolt in which the wardens connived. All escaped into the courtyard, where a great fight took place with the military. The troops succeeded in subduing them. It is impossible as yet to ascertain the number of victims. Several bombs were found.

Negro Is Lynched.

Greenville, Miss.—An unidentified negro who attacked a white woman on one of the principal streets in the residence section here, was captured in a cemetery by a crowd of citizens and lynched an hour later. The woman was Mrs. G. S. Whitehead, a widow.

Boy Is Electrocuted.

Mansfield, O.—John Jesson, 14 years old, caught hold of a rope to shake an arc light, which was not burning and was electrocuted. The boy's father was badly shocked when trying to rescue him.

Dynamite in His Pocket.

Sharon, Mass.—Thomas J. Leary, the town tree warden, sat down beneath a tree on East Roxbury street, and a moment later an explosion blew him to pieces. A hole three feet deep was made in the ground where he had been sitting. The report of the explosion was heard for miles, and houses a quarter of a mile away rocked dangerously. The theory is that Leary, who was a contractor, had a stick of dynamite in his pocket and that when he sat down it came in contact with a stone.

Life Imprisonment.

Lincoln, Neb.—The jury in the case of Convict Charles Morley, after deliberating for 48 hours, returned a verdict of first-degree murder, fixing the punishment at life imprisonment. Morley is the only survivor of the three convicts that blew their way out of the Nebraska penitentiary on March 14, after killing Warden Delahanty and two assistants. Four days later the three convicts, Gray, Dowd and Morley, were overtaken by a posse in Sapp county, near Omaha. Gray was killed, Dowd committed suicide.

STRIVE FOR HARMONY

THEREIN IS THE WHOLE SECRET OF SUCCESSFUL COIFFURE.

Once Having Ascertained the Style That Suits the Face, Refuse to Be Led to Follow Any Caprice of Fashion.

The woman who would be in good style never plays freaks with her hair. Her coiffure should be personal, not a whim of fashion. She should study her type under skillful advice or by means of a triple mirror, until she knows what arrangement suits the color and nature of her hair and the contour and expression of her face.

The choice once made, hold to it though the rest of the girls are flattening down their tresses or puffing them out to suit the last caprice in headgear. Go to hairdressers if you can afford it; they keep the hair in such good condition, but insist on their following the general lines you have adopted as your individual coiffure.

It is not easy to give advice as to hairdressing, but in a general way remember that black or very dark hair does not look well fluffy or disordered, while the least suspicion of pink should be tabooed. It should be glossy, smooth, and if waved at all adopt a broad, loose wave and moderate puffing.

Light hair should be apt to look thin and smooth, and waving usually becomes a beauty.

Do not wave the hair at the points. Light hair should be apt to look thin and smooth, and waving usually becomes a beauty.

GIFT MAN WILL APPRECIATE

Practical Case for His Ties Is Something Which He Will Always Welcome.

A practical case for ties always forms an acceptable gift for a man, and in our sketch may be seen a capital article for this purpose and one also that is simple and easy to make. It can be carried out in art linen or art serge, and lined with soft silk and bound with narrow ribbon or edged with a silk cord.

The material may be cut entirely in one piece measuring 27 inches in length by 8 inches in width. After this piece of material has been lined with soft silk, the ends for a distance of three inches are turned and sewn down at the edges so they form two pockets, into the center of the point the button shown in the sketch is placed, a band is placed around the ends and the ends are turned towards the center.

The woman who would be in good style never plays freaks with her hair. Her coiffure should be personal, not a whim of fashion. She should study her type under skillful advice or by means of a triple mirror, until she knows what arrangement suits the color and nature of her hair and the contour and expression of her face.

HAVE WE A CHANCE?—A corps of surveyors are quietly at work surveying a route for a steam or electric railway up main Licking river.

The survey is being made along the eastern edge of Harrison Co. up the Licking river valley, and it is reported the route runs to Mt. Olivet or Flemingsburg or some other near point.

Of course many surveys are made without a road being built, but nevertheless the fact that the survey is being made carries with it the possibility of a new road of some kind. It is possible that a traction line is to be built from Newport following up the Licking valley.

Last week's Falmouth Outlook says of the survey:

"Messrs. A. L. Clairborne, of Richmond, Va.; J. B. Walker, of Cincinnati, and A. C. Walker, of Luray, Va., arrived Saturday with corps of engineers and assistants for the purpose of surveying a traction line from Paris through Cynthiana, Mt. Olivet, Claysville, Falmouth and Butler to Cincinnati. Mr. Clairborne and the Walkers are the largest and most successful railroad promoters in the country; their coming means something more than passing notice to our country. Our opinion is that we have more than an even chance of securing a traction line at an early date."—Cynthiana Log Cabin.

A REBUKE TO UNPRODUCTIVE WOMEN.—In an article on the "Irresponsible Woman and the Friendless Child," in the May American Magazine, Ida M. Tarbell says:

"The heaviest burden to-day on productive America, aside from the burden imposed by a vicious industrial system, is that of its non-productive women. They are the most demanding portion of our society. They spend more money than any other group, are more insistent in their cry for amusement, are more resentful of interruption of their pleasures and excitements, go to greater extremes of indolence and uneasiness."

"The really serious side to this parasitical group is that great numbers of other women, not free, forced to produce, accept their standards of life. We hear women, useful women, everywhere talking about the desirability of not being obliged to do anything, commiserating women who must work, commiserating those who have heavy household responsibilities, and by the whole of their words and acts, influencing those younger and less experienced than themselves to a similar life."

"WASNT TAKING CHANCES."—"Do you mean to say," exclaimed the militant suffragette, "that you have been married ten years and never had a quarrel with your husband?"

"It is quite true," said the saddened woman, who worked for her living.

"And you always give way to him?"

"Always."

"And always let him have the last word?"

"Always."

"And do you mind telling me why you are so yielding—so very blind to the efforts of us poor women who slave for your emancipation?"

"I'll tell you why," she replied, "I never quarrel with my husband just because we are jugglers by profession, and twice daily I stand against the wall while he throws knives all around me."

CRUEL SYMPATHY.—For a number of years a bitter feud existed between Brown and Perkins, next door neighbors. The trouble had originated through the depredations of Brown's cat, and had grown to be so fixed an affair that neither party ever dreamed of "making up." One day, however, Brown sent by his servant a peace-making note for Mr. Perkins, which read:

"Mr. Brown sends his compliments to Mr. Perkins and begs to say that his old cat died this morning."

Mr. Perkins' written reply was bitter: "Mr. Perkins is sorry to hear of Mr. Brown's trouble, but he had not heard that Mrs. Brown was ill."—Hampton's.

THE NEW AND THE OLD.—Gov. Foss, of Mass., tells of a divine who was visiting a State prison when he came across a prisoner whose features were familiar to him.

"What brought you here, my poor fellow?" he asked.

"You married me to a new woman a little while ago, sir," the prisoner replied.

"Ah, I see," said the parson; and she was domineering and extravagant, and drove you to desperate courses, eh?"

"No," said the prisoner, "my old woman turned up."—Cosmopolitan Magazine.

HARD ON THE PRINCE.—"When I was abroad I was constantly taken for a certain crown prince whom I believe I resemble."

"I suppose you had to shell out some large tips."

"No. I let the prince get the reputation of a piker."—Washington Herald.

FLOWERS OF ANCIENT EGYPT.

In a suburb of Cairo stands the national museum of Egyptian antiquities founded fifty years ago by a Frenchman known as Mariette Bey. One department is devoted to an interesting collection of specimens of plants which have been found in the sepulchral monuments of that country, says Harper's Weekly.

It is remarkable that, although the botanical collection contains many plants which are still in use in the country.

Moreover, the closest examination fails to reveal the slightest difference between the plants that flourished fifty centuries ago and those which the traveler sees today on the banks of the river.

Flowers such as the boy Moses or the children of Joseph picked still bloom unchanged. There are to be seen here blue sprays of larkspur which loving hands laid upon the bodies of those who died a thousand years before Abraham and Sarah went into Egypt.

In the tombs of later date have been found, together with apparently simple ornamental flowers, such as hollyhocks and chrysanthemums, the various fruits, vegetables and grains for which the land has ever been renowned, such as figs, dates, olives, grapes, pomegranates, onions, barley and wheat. Around the necks and upon the breasts of those who died at the time when Solomon reigned in Jerusalem, about 1,000 B. C., were found garlands of celery, which does not appear to have been used at that time as a vegetable by the Egyptians.

All these plants, when they were prepared for the funeral ceremonies, were subjected to great heat, by which their form and color were preserved, but their germinating power was destroyed. Hence all the stories which have been told of wheat having been raised from grains that have lain in the wrappings of mummies for fifty centuries are untrue. Unscrupulous natives have sold to credulous travelers wheat in which modern grains have been mixed with the ancient, but only the modern grains can germinate.—Ex.

WHAT SAVED HER LIFE

Mrs. Martin Tells About a Painful Experience that Might Have Ended Seriously.

Rivesville, W. Va.—Mrs. Dora Martin, in a letter from Rivesville, writes: "For three years, I suffered with womanly troubles, and had pains in my back and side. I was nervous and could not sleep at night."

The doctor could not help me. He said I would have to be operated on before I could get better. I thought I would try using Cardul.

Now, I am entirely well. I am sure Cardul saved my life. I will never be without Cardul in my home. I recommend it to my friends."

For fifty years, Cardul has been relieving pain and distress caused by womanly trouble. It will surely help you. It goes to the spot—reaches the trouble—relieves the symptoms, and drives away the cause.

If you suffer from any symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardul. Your druggist sells and recommends it. Get a bottle from him today.
